S/Sgt. Justice is 7th Vietnam Casualty

A local Army sergeant, father of two children, was one of six soldiers killed Friday in Vietnam when a howitzer shell jammed and detonated while his armored Cavalry unit was engaged on a firing mission against hostile troops, it was learned here this week.

Staff Sgt. Ralph R. Justice, 34, the husband of Mrs. Shirley M. Justice, 1916 Johnson road, was among six members of Howitzer Battery, First Squadron of the 11th Armored Cavalry Division, who died in action. Complete details of the incident are not available, but military authorities report that a round jammed in the weapon and exploded.

Sgt. Justice's remains arrived here today, accompanied by a military escort. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, with an honor guard composed of units from the Army Depot. Arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

A 16-year Army veteran, the local serviceman had suffered shrapnel wounds to his neck and ears in 1951 while fighting in the Korean conflict. He had been re-assigned to a tank unit in 1964-65, returning to the U.S. in November, 1965.

One of 7 Brothers
Sgt. Justice was one of seven local brothers to serve in the United States Armed Forces. He had been in Vietnam since last Sept. 7.

An officer from the 11th Army Corps Headquarters in St. Louis notified Mrs. Justice of her husband's death, and two official telegrams followed. Mrs. Justice had been assisted this week by Capt. James Amato, a survivor's assistance agent attached to the Granite City Army Depot. Military officials also notified by wire the serviceman's mother, Mrs. Grace Justice of Granite City.

Weapons Instructor
Mrs. Justice said her husband had been assigned to howitzer weapons for the past 12 years and had served as an instructor. From 1962 to 1964, Sgt. Justice was a member of a special test unit at Fort Sill, Okla., where similar experimental weapons are tested and evaluated.

Before leaving for Vietnam in September, Mrs. Justice told the Press-Record that her husband had expressed concern about working with a "green crew" instead of the unit he had been associated with previously.

Gateway Council Approves Model Clean Air Law

Action Climaxes Five Months of Controversy; Cool Study is Ordered

A model air pollution control ordinance recommended for adoption throughout the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area was approved yesterday by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

The ordinance, approved by a 124-one council vote, included a 2.33 maximum sulfur content on coal to be burned in the area and, temporarily at least, a heated five-month controversy between industry and public health officials over certain pollution control standards to be included in the bill.

Approval of the measure carried with it a stipulation by the council that further investigation be made of disputed claims over availability of low-sulfur coal and the economic effects of such coal would have throughout the area. The council will ask the three universities of the area—Washington University, Southern Illinois University and St. Louis University—to carry out a joint study on coal supplies and feasibility of use of low-sulfur coal in the 400-square-mile area to be covered by the recommended anti-pollution law.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Mayor A. J. Cerverese. St. Louis, who claimed the ordinance "is inadequate." The mayor said he was not sure if the ordinance recommended for adoption by the city of St. Louis, but added that "St. Louis will have a stiff air pollution law no matter what anyone else does."

Can Only Recommend
The Gateway council has no enforcement power and cannot officially adopt the ordinance. The council has served as a study group to prepare a model ordinance that would be acceptable on an area-wide basis.

Ultimate Aims
The ultimate goal is to provide the community with a 314-bed general hospital, utilizing the 1945 and 1958 wings with 176 patient beds and for the new wing to have 128 beds. The hospital presently has 242 beds.

Construction would be deferred on the fourth and fifth floors of the new wing, and the 1951 wing would be retained until the new floors could be developed.

The survey of the hospital completed last year shows the greatest needs to be for modernization of the emergency room, operating room, obstetrical unit and the physical therapy department. The hospital has been advised repeatedly by the Joint Commission on Hospitals and the Public Health Department that deficiencies in these areas could be corrected only with new construction.

In 1965, the hospital treated 116,693 patients as well as providing care for 36,961 out-patient cases, including more than 16,000 emergency room cases. This was based on a hospital service area population of 70,300. In 1966, the service area population is expected to jump to a minimum of 111,000.

Increase in Patients
The survey noted that patient admissions jumped from 471 in 1960 to 6270 in 1960 to the 11,669 in 1965, and that further increases can be anticipated as the community grows.

The proposed new wing would include—Basement: central sterile supply, laundry, central rooms.

Its modernization is termed more expensive than new construction.

St. Elizabeth Hospital is ready to start a five-year fund-raising campaign for $2,000,000 to modernize and expand its facilities. Announcement of the campaign was made Monday afternoon during a meeting of the hospital's lay advisory board.

The $2,000,000 campaign with an open-end goal is to be coupled with federal grants expected to amount to $1,500,000 and a loan of an estimated $3,500,000 to be sought by the Sisters of Divine Providence. This is to initiate the first phase of the hospital's 20-year, $8,500,000 program announced early last year. Estimated cost of the initial phase is $5,000,000.

The hospital received a partial federal grant of $910,819 last month with a stipulation that construction start this year.

Must Start This Year
Sister Mary Thomas, the hospital administrator, advised members of the advisory board that if the requirement is not met, the grant could be lost, and the hospital also could possibly lose its top priority rating.

The advisory board members reaffirmed Monday their support of the campaign and authorized a contract with Hane Associates, Inc., Newtonville, Mass., a professional fund-raising firm that aided the hospital in its campaign for construction of the 1958 wing along Niedringhaus avenue.

Under the 20-year program, the hospital will add 100 beds as well as modernizing and expanding such facilities as the emergency and operating departments and will add 38 beds, including an intensive care unit.

Details of the campaign are to be worked out in the next two weeks with Frank E. Wheeler of Hane Associates, and the hospital advisory board is to meet again on Jan. 23.

Tin Linzie Facilities
Sister Mary Thomas told the board members that a two-year survey of the hospital's facilities and needs, conducted by Dr. Anthony J. J. Reuter, hospital consultant, showed the hospital was "trying to practice 1970 medicine in Tin Linzie facilities."

The modernization program will be aimed primarily at the emergency and surgery departments, to provide up-to-date and enlarged facilities in the proposed new wing, which will be located along Iowa street on hospital owned property.

Once development of the new wing reaches final stages, the oldest wing of the hospital is to be razed in conformance with terms of federal grants. That wing is along Niedringhaus avenue north of 21st street and now includes the emergency rooms, operating rooms, the maternity department as well as patient rooms.

Alton State Hospital is Holding Job Interviews

Interviews are being held at Alton State Hospital for enrolling trainees in the institutional worker program, it was announced by Miss Katherine Quinci, coordinator of nursing in-service training.

She said applications are being taken in the personnel office through Feb. 1 and classes will begin Feb. 20. The program provides 20 weeks of basic training for workers in patient care, while also paying them $280 per month in wages, Miss Quinci noted.

Miss Quinci said IWP is distinguished from the manpower development and training course in that it is sponsored by the Department of Mental Health, while the other is federally supported.

Presently, there are 12 trainees finishing up the initial course which began in October. Upon graduation they become eligible to take the civil service exam for psychiatric aide at a higher salary. If they do not pass, they still can be retained as institutional workers.

Under IWP the trainee spends one-third of his time in classes and the remainder working with patients under supervision. The institutional worker classification replaces that of the psychiatric aide trainee, who had to pass an exam before becoming employed.

Miss Quinci said IWP is distinguished from the manpower development and training course in that it is sponsored by the Department of Mental Health, while the other is federally supported.

She said anyone wishing to apply for the program should contact the personnel department, 465-5580, Ext. 323. Applicants must have at least an eighth-grade education, she said.

No Competition Seen From SIU-SW — Rich

Operation of a book store which will sell clothing and other items on the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus should have little concern for area retail merchants, according to Maurice Rich, Granite City retailer.

Rich, who attended a recent meeting of businessmen and university officials, including President Delyie Morris, said that space to be devoted to other than books and related items in the new campus store would not permit any selection or variety of items which would make SIU-SW competitive with the retail merchant-taxpayer.

The university is planning to open the 10,000 square foot store in the spring, but only 1000 square feet will be used for the sale of "soft goods," according to a floor plan displayed by university officials.

A charge that a supermart designed to do $500,000 per year of business was being created was dispelled at the meeting.

Rich said that the 1000 feet of space would be a bare third of the floor space in his ladies apparel shop and probably would permit only campus-related items.

If the store, profits of which are to help pay off a $5 1/2 million bond issue used to build a university center, should expand its operations, some action should be taken, Rich said. He added that Dr. Morris has agreed to further discussions if the store should become competitive.

But because of objections among Madison county retailers and other areas of the state in which universities are located, two proposed bills controlling campus book store sales have been placed in the legislative hopper in Springfield, Rich said.

Two Women Brave Elements to Carry Mail in Madison

Strong support for hiring women as mail carriers or clerk-mail delivery employees was voiced this week by Madison Postmaster William Clinton, who offered high praise for two Madison area residents—the first women to be employed by the local post office in carrier jobs.

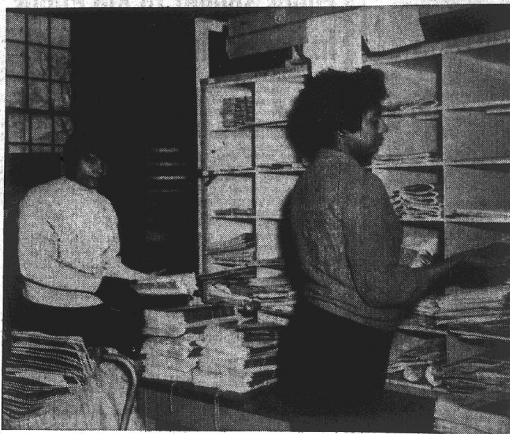

They are Mrs. Gwendolyn McCaskill, 1010 Calhoun street, Madison, and Mrs. Evelyn Jennings, 204 Carver street, Eagle Park Acres. "Both are doing exceptionally fine jobs, and I recommend them highly," Clinton said today.

Under federal employment practices, the two women were required to take the usual civil service examinations, the postal official explained. He said the Madison post office employees roster had become depleted and notices were distributed to patrons asking interested persons to apply for positions as mail carriers or clerks.

"When the roster came back to us," Clinton said, "it contained the names of eight women and one man who had successfully passed the examination requirements." At present, 20 carriers and clerks are employed at the Madison post office.

Mrs. McCaskill, who lacks only 12 hours of college credits to receive her degree in elementary education, was hired as a postal clerk with some duties involving carrying mail, the postmaster said. Mrs. Jennings, who is employed as a sub-carrier, drives a mail truck, delivers packages and is capable of handling all the responsibilities of a mail carrier, Clinton explained.

Both women are 27 years old and were hired in November. Presently classified as "indefinite employees," Clinton said that all new post office workers remain in this category until permanent positions become available through regular career employees resigning or retiring. He added that neither woman was hired under the temporary Christmas employment program. A check with Granite City Postmaster Theodore Overbeck revealed that Mrs. Betty June Hartwick still remains the only woman mail carrier in the Granite City postal district.

56 Apartments Being Built In Parkview School Area

An all-electric built-in kitchen, full carpeted rooms, with window drapes, will be featured in the 56 apartment units now under construction along Maryville drive in the Parkview school area of Granite City. The one- and two-bedroom units will rent from $115 to $130 per month.

The first unit may be ready for public inspection in ten days, according to Henry Mohr, a partner in the firm of Schmidt-Mohr Realty and Investment Inc., developers of the project. The St. Louis company purchased the land from Henry Ross of Granite City.

Mohr told the Press-Record that completion of the seven brick and frame apartment buildings is expected in late spring. He pointed out that all local labor is being used in the construction project which began in September. Shrubbery planting and other landscaping details also started this week, the realtor added.

Mohr said that each unit will contain a built-in electric range, refrigerator and cupboard areas.

Tenants in each of the seven apartment structures will have use of a basement area equipped with washing machines, dryers and storage facilities.

The developer said that numerous inquiries from prospective tenants already are being received. He added that Midwest Management Co. will serve as the rental agent with company officials now planning to set up a display unit and tenant information center in the first building, located at the north end of the development.

Mohr commented that his firm believes the Quad-City area to be of vital importance in the future growth of the entire two-state metropolitan area.

Mrs. Louise Petrik, 79, Succumbs at Hospital
Mrs. Louise Petrik, 79, of 1728 Spruce street, died following a 7-year illness at 7:47 p.m. Monday, in St. Elizabeth Hospital. She had been a patient for 12 days.

A local resident for 50 years, Mrs. Petrik was born in Hungary. She was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and the William Penn Lodge. Mrs. Petrik and her husband, Steve, who survives, had observed their 60th wedding anniversary last February.

Also surviving are one son, Alex Petrik of Jennings, Mo.; three daughters, Mrs. Joseph (Irene) Margulen and Mrs. John (Theresa) Danco, both of Granite City, and Mrs. Mary Resler of Wood River; one brother, Frank Nagy of Hungary; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given elsewhere in this issue.

Raleigh Scott, 63, Dies at Barnes Hospital
Raleigh Whitmer Scott, 63, of 1024 rear Calhoun street, Venice, a life-long resident of the Madison-Venice area, succumbed to an illness of several months about midnight Monday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Mrs. Scott was born in Madison. He had retired in 1964 from General Steel Industries, where he was employed for 22 years as a shop blast operator. He was a member of the United Steelworkers of America and the Mount Nebo Baptist Church. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Irene Scott; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Lorraine Harris of Madison; two sisters, Mrs. Gussie Harper of Madison and Mrs. Hazel Durand of Chicago; and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Always expect icing in freezing weather, but don't always expect to see it, warns the Quad-City Safety Council. Icing develops most quickly on overpasses, bridges and in shaded areas but an iced roadway does not always change in appearance. If you find yourself in a skid, let up on the gas and steer in the direction that the rear of the vehicle is sliding. Avoid using your brakes at least until you are out of the skid and then just pump them lightly to slow down. Frequently in a skid a slight, smooth acceleration will help you to gain control.

Seek Higher Interest Limit on Port Bonds

The Tri-City Regional Port District board Monday afternoon authorized its attorneys to seek approval of a legislative bill that would increase the interest rate the district may pay on bond issues.

Such a bill would raise the interest rate from the present limit of 5% to a figure to be determined by the General Assembly, according to Carl A. Ranil, manager of the Port District.

Ranil pointed out that in today's "tight money" market the issuance of bonds of 5% or under is practically impossible, and said "that it might be difficult to sell bonds even at a higher rate."

The board also discussed means of obtaining engineering services for development of an overall plan to best utilize land of the Port District along the Chain of Rocks canal. No definite decision on securing such services was reached. Ranil was authorized to check into available services by area engineering firms.

A resolution in commemoration of the late E. H. Barron, manager of the Port District who died recently, was passed by the board.

The high cost of living never stands still long enough to be thoroughly investigated.

State Sales Tax Guide With Income Tax Forms

Illinois taxpayers may use the table. Taxpayers are not required to use the table, Philpott pointed out. The table is furnished as a booklet mailed to taxpayers, according to Jay C. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois.

The table is based on consumer spending patterns and shows the average amount of state sales tax paid by Illinois residents.

It may be used by taxpayers who itemize their federal income tax deductions. State sales tax on automobiles purchased is not included in the table. Taxpayers who purchased an automobile may add deductible sales taxes paid on the purchase to the amount shown in the table.

Follow the lead of long distance bus drivers and keep your headlights on during the daylight, suggests the Quad-City Safety Council. If you have your headlights on and the oncoming driver happens to be blinded by the bright sunlight, he has a better chance of seeing you.

TB Association Honors Secretary

Officers and directors of the Madison County Tuberculosis Association paid recognition to a veteran association at Stages Steak House, Wood River. Honored was Mrs. Kenneth (Norma) Curry of Wood River, who has been secretary of the association since Dec. 15, 1953.

The dinner was arranged as a surprise "Norma Curry Night" and was a dutch treat affair with Earl E. Green of East Alton, president, in charge. Local directors in attendance were Dr. E. H. Theis and Dr. Amos H. Rode, both members of the board since 1956 and both past presidents of the association.

Mrs. Curry, the former Norma Patton of Edwardsville, in her 25 years with the association has assisted in handling 363,382 chest x-rays, and many Madison countyans know her only as "Miss X-ray Girl."

It was noted that when the free chest x-ray program was started in 1942-43, she kept the records for 5207 x-rays. Last year there were 26,412.

Also, in 1941, the TB Christmas Seal sales amounted to $9468, while last year's receipts were $46,806. The funds are used to provide the free x-rays.

GCNS Band to Present Concert on Jan. 26th

The Granite City high school band will present its second concert of the 1966-67 season at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 26, according to Louis Meek, band director, who addressed members of the Granite City Band Parents Association Tuesday evening in the high school music room.

Meek also announced arrangements are now being completed for the band's annual spring tour, with the out-of-state area to be visited this year still under consideration. The educator discussed other activities involving the music department and mentioned that rehearsal sessions prior to the January concert may prove difficult, due to final examinations being held at the local school next week.

Bernard F. Shepard, association president, conducted the monthly business meeting. He assisted Leonard Gerlich to appear in "completing arrangements for the band's spring tour. Reports were given by Mrs. Charles Landis and Gilbert Hall.

A social hour was enjoyed by 21 parents with refreshments served by Mrs. Edward Zenick and Mrs. Ralph Zang. The next meeting was set for Feb. 14, in the high school band room.

Many people turned over a new leaf on New Year's day and turned it back the next.

Sacred Heart Holy Name Society Views Movies

Two movies on historic Williamsburg and on communism were shown at the regular meeting of the Sacred Heart Holy Name Society Tuesday evening in the school.

Presented by Henry Helfrich, the films were "Williamsburg—A Story of a Patriot," depicting in color the history of Williamsburg during revolutionary times, and "Red Nightmare" which traced communism from its inception and birth through its development and to its present-day influence on the world.

During the meeting plans were made to continue to transport aged persons to Sunday services for the rest of the year.

Dr. Meredith to Speak On Parent Counseling

Dr. Cameron W. Meredith of Southern Illinois University will address the Parkview school PTA at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 19, on parent counseling to improve parent-child relationships. It was announced today. The meeting is open to the public.

University director of the State and National Public Services Division at the Southwest and Carbondale campuses, Dr. Meredith also will discuss SIU assistance in establishing regular parent group counseling programs. A question period will follow his talk.

Funds Sought to Aid Pupils In Developing Coordination

A visual-motor coordination training program for young pupils was the subject of $400,000 three-year federal fund application authorized by the Granite City school board Monday night.

Financed under Title Three of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the project would enable such training to be instituted in all kindergartens to develop readiness for learning.

Four clinics for after-school and Saturday morning operation would be established to determine which children need specific remediation and to provide the indicated professional training for them.

The physical education curriculum for all first and second graders would be revised to include visual-motor (muscular) coordination training as a means of reinforcing learning.

Current research is described as showing that perceptual-motor disabilities and perceptual motor immaturity may be causing learning disabilities and that such conditions respond to training.

Dr. Carl Rosen of the University of Georgia reading department has determined that about 10% of first graders require professional eye care; Dr. Marshall Rosenberg of Psychological Associates, University City, Mo., has noted that 41% of kindergarten pupils had visual-motor coordination difficulty; and the Reading Research Foundation, Chicago, has shown accelerated gains in reading ability from motor coordination training.

It was announced that the Parkview grade school demonstration center authorized by board Nov. 17 calls for a $480 program from October 1967 to May 1969 financed entirely by the Illinois Department of Program Development for Gifted Children.

Goal would be acceleration of children identified as academically superior through a non-graded continuous progress elementary program.

Programs to be demonstrated are language arts and modern mathematics involving inter-grade grouping in a non-graded setting (kindergarten through sixth grade); creative and experimental arts and crafts (intermediate); Initial Teaching Alphabet reading program (beginning at the kindergarten level); individualized instruction in modern mathematics (upper primary); typing for personal use (beginning upper primary); and team teaching in social studies to further individualized instruction (upper intermediate level).

Parkview is to be the host school. For language arts and modern mathematics involving inter-grade grouping, Niedringhaus grade school is to be the cooperating school.

GCIS Custodial Night Shift. In other business Monday night, the board added a custodial position, with the time to be shared between Parkview school and Granite City high school, and approved a night GCIS custodial schedule extending to 6:30 a.m. Opening of the GCIS cafeteria building has increased the workload there, it was noted.

Two GCIS custodians, aided during part of the shift by the new custodian, will work from 10 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. instead of the previous 3 p.m.-11:30 p.m.

Night activities at the high school and added security against theft or vandalism were cited. The late-night shift also is expected to simplify classroom cleaning, improving overall efficiency and enabling present overtime assignments to be reduced.

Employ Three Teachers. Three teachers were hired: Mrs. Dianne Noonan, Houston, Tex., SIU bachelor degree and one year of teaching experience, fall 1967 kindergarten or second grade assignment; Mrs. Janet Steinbrook Wilson, who has a bachelor degree, Webster third grade beginning Jan. 3; and Robert L. Petri, Belleville, 1967 SIU bachelor degree, Coolidge junior high school industrial arts effective March 20. An earlier resignation by Miss Harriet Byrd, Maryville first grade teacher, was withdrawn and rescinded.

The board employed as cafeteria workers effective Tuesday Mrs. Lorraine M. Boush, 17 Nassau; Mrs. Annie Marie Johnson, 2605 Iowa street, Mrs. Virginia Poulos, 2133 Benton street; Mrs. Leona Mae Delaloye, 2693 Washington avenue; Mrs. Frances Jones, 897 Madison avenue; Mrs. Adrienne Reuter, 2125 Cottage avenue; and Mrs. Ann Sporic, 1312 Joy avenue.

A leave of absence retroactive to Dec. 12 and extending to June was granted to Mrs. Beverly M. Pfender, Granite City, a Logan grade school counselor with

STAGE STARS' BIRTHDAY Gift to Willard
"Butch" Portell of Granite City is being fitted by Miss Put Suzuki, appearing in the lead role of "The Owl and the Pussycat," at the American theaters. The actress and Madison county clerk of the circuit court are personal friends.

'Butch' Portell Beams While Squiring Actress

Willard "Butch" Portell of Madison county circuit court, has been beamy and looking much happier than usual this week. But it isn't every week that he has the opportunity to acquire a famous actress around the court.

The opportunity came when Miss Put Suzuki arrived at the American theater to star in "The Owl and the Pussycat." The Japanese-American actress and Portell met and became friends about two years ago while he was vacationing in Fort Springs, Ark. She was appearing in a songstress in a night club. They corresponded from time to time, and Miss Suzuki wrote recently to inform him of her St. Louis appearance.

A highlight of the week so far was a quiet dinner in honor of the actress held by Portell Monday evening at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

Quiet Dinner
The circuit clerk, also a sportsman, had shot the birds on previous hunting trips this season. He had members of his staff along as guests, after showing

Miss Suzuki around the courthouse during the day. While there, she signed autographs and was presented with a special deputy sheriff's badge by Sheriff George Musso, the once-great professional football player. Miss Suzuki also became the county tuberculosis sanitarium, speaking with patients. She also sang two selections, including "I Enjoy Being a Girl" from the "Flower Drum Song," in which she starred on Broadway, and an old Japanese lullaby.

Watch Performance
Portell and some of his staff watched Miss Suzuki's performance at the American last Saturday night and then served as hosts at a late supper in a St. Louis restaurant.

The circuit clerk was still brightly smiling when he visited the Press-Record office with the tiny actress yesterday afternoon (she was in town to have her hair done).

His friends felt there will be "no living with him" until Jan. 22 when the play closes in St. Louis and moves on to Kansas City.

MORE ABOUT Madison

the Missouri and Illinois properties in the vicinity of the bridge, emergency physical check-ups, and contacts have been received from restaurants and night club operators.

20-Year Outlook
The city plans to continue to keep the bridge open to traffic, with a maintenance cost of about $50,000 per year, though tolls were lifted on the span last August. The mayor noted it might cost a million dollars to repair the bridge, while the city could continue to operate it for 20 years for that amount.

During that period, the bridge could again become valuable property, he said.

The council approved a two-year agreement with the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to conduct a comprehensive planning program for the cities of Madison and Venice at a cost of $22,350.

Two-thirds of the cost is to be paid by the federal government, which has approved a planning grant totaling $25,861 through the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development. Costs to the two cities will be $240 to Madison and $2395 to Venice.

Zoning, Subdivisions
The study is to include provisions for zoning and land subdivision regulations and will be known as the Madison and Venice Planning Program.

The cities are to provide available data, office space, a legal review and other details. SWIMAPC is to hold 10 meetings a year and provide quarterly progress reports and time schedules.

In an annual fire report, Fire Chief E. J. Miller listed 39 fires in the city with a total loss of $30,145, including $7820 to contents.

There were 26 other fires without a loss, three miscellaneous alarms and four out-of-town assistance calls.

Per capita fire loss was $4.43. Total value of buildings and contents involved in fires was $279,500 and $54,250. There was one death caused by a fire, occurring last August in a house on Edwardsville road.

Police Chief Emmett Piazia was authorized to attend the semi-annual convention of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police this weekend in Chicago. He did not request an expense allowance, he receives expenses from the organization's annual convention.

MORE ABOUT Hospital

stores; Ground floor: radiology, emergency, physical check-ups, staff lounge and library, medical records, dining room, family lounge; First floor: operating and recovery room suite, intensive care unit with 12 beds.

Second floor: 26 beds for obstetrics, nurseries, labor and delivery rooms; Third floor: 60 beds for medical and surgical patients; Fourth floor: 50 beds for medical and surgical patients, and Fifth floor: additional 30 beds for medical and surgical patients.

At present construction deferments are planned for the fourth and fifth floors and the lounge-library-medical record-dining room section of the ground floor.

One Large vs. Two

The hospital survey also took up the question of one larger hospital vs. two smaller hospitals, and Dr. Rourke stressed detailed reasons favoring a larger institution over construction of a second hospital in a community this size.

"The quality and quantity of medical care to the patient is improved when the size is adequate to support:

"(a) More medical depth in radiology and laboratory services, providing greater professional coverage around the clock and during vacation periods, illness and attendance at meetings.

"(b) Adequate members of anesthesiologists to efficiently use expensive operation room suites, equipment and nursing staff by avoiding bottlenecks to scheduling surgery.

"(c) A physical therapy department where the basic single unit of equipment and staffing requires volume of patients.

"(d) A more completely staffed emergency service, with facilities and equipment necessary to meet community needs.

Specialized Services
His review of specialized diagnostic service beyond the mere skeleton programs in small institution.

"Medical care is improved because volume of work is adequate to justify the expense of mechanization in many diagnostic services.

"Medical care to the community is enhanced because a large hospital can provide a greater depth in medical specialties without 'circuit riding' commitments for some of these groups.

"Medical staff organization may be improved because a larger hospital provides greater concentration of doctors, thus providing greater opportunity in selection of committees and heads of clinical departments.

"It is possible to provide and support additional administrative talents in all departments, particularly at second level positions. The ability to attract such personnel is enhanced. This will insure adequate coverage, better supervision at all times and qualified people for promotion when top positions become vacant.

"There can be greater specialization in the use of personnel and better division by use of professional and subspecialty personnel.

"More optimum occupancies can be attained, particularly in the smaller clinical services, and a degree of clinical segregation becomes possible.

"There is a greater community confidence and identification with the facility."

Illinois Bar Starts Checking on Barylak

The Illinois Bar Association yesterday opened an investigation into the conduct of former State's Attorney Joseph R. Barylak in his handling of private estate cases. On hand at the county courthouse to confer with judges and attorneys with information was Duane L. Traynor, a Springfield lawyer representing the state. If there is any indication of unprofessional conduct, a recommendation of disciplinary action will be made to the Illinois Supreme Court, he said.

Barylak's handling of public and private funds also is to be investigated by the Madison county grand jury.

Troop Court of Honor

Madison Boy Scout Troop 21 will hold its first court of honor for presentation of rank awards at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 17, at the First Presbyterian Church, Third Street and Ewing avenue. Scoutmaster Charles Payne has announced.

Community is enhanced because a large hospital can provide a greater depth in medical specialties without 'circuit riding' commitments for some of these groups.

"Medical staff organization may be improved because a larger hospital provides greater concentration of doctors, thus providing greater opportunity in selection of committees and heads of clinical departments.

'Dirty War' in Vietnam Described in 25th Infantry Paper

Words like "pacification," "escalation" and "de-escalation" describing the war in Vietnam are over-used to the point that they lose their meaning—they become lost in the "mumble-jumble" and die until a new word or phrase is created in Washington or on a wire service teletype keyboard to replace them.

But, to the men of the Army's 25th Infantry Division on duty in Cu Chi, Vietnam, the meanings of "pacification," "escalation" and "de-escalation" are very real because they make up the criteria of their day to day existence. Over there with them is a Granite City man, Carl Paschoff, husband of Mrs. Mary Paschoff, 313 Fehling road.

Paschoff is a civil service employee stationed at Cu Chi, located about 50 miles from Saigon, on a six-month tour out of the Army Aviation Center at Fort St. Louis. He has been modifying military aircraft, since he arrived there in November 1965. Paschoff, who is expected to return this April, sent a copy of the "Tropic Lightning News," a weekly newspaper of the 25th Infantry Division, to the Press-

Record to "help bring a better picture of this 'Dirty War' to the people of the Quad-Cities."

In the Infantry newspaper, which has the motto of the 25th Infantry Division under the masthead of the paper—"Ready To Strike . . . Anywhere, Anytime"—are stories of troop deployment, an honor roll for men decorated for valor in action, cartoons, an editorial, pictures and a TV guide.

Also—and most importantly—there are stories of individual triumphs performed by the division's fighting men and individual tragedies suffered by them.

Story of Personal Triumph

A story of personal triumph for one soldier, a 19-year-old private, was told in the newspaper. After first rescuing the officer in charge of his platoon, who was wounded after trying to rush an enemy occupied hut, the private returned and tossed a hand grenade into the door of the hut. It exploded, but the Viet Cong or VC kept on firing.

He said, "I had to try it again," so he rushed the hut and threw a second grenade into a window. Another blast shook the hut, but the enemy kept firing.

A third hand grenade quieted the VC firing for a while, but again the steady chatter of an automatic weapon began. A fourth 30-yard spirit, under fire, brought the private back to a side of the hut.

Grenade Bounces Back

Grenade in hand, the article tells, he carefully moved along the side and tossed the explosive through what he thought was an open door. "The grenade must have hit the door, because it bounced right out and was smoking by my feet," the private said.

He ran out of the perimeter of the hand grenade just in time. Still undeterred after running four sprouts under enemy fire, he returned to the hut and set the hatchet roof on fire with his cigarette lighter—the enemy came out, the article states and concludes that "the private had gotten his way."

American Generosity

Typical of the American GI's generosity, when he is fighting in or occupying an underprivileged land, is related in another article telling of the success of with 250 records to the division for use in the enlisted men's club.

"Helping Hand." Packets including food, household goods and basic medical supplies are handed out to Vietnam refugees. "Helping Hand" also has treated 39,400 refugees in its medical clinic since its inception in March 1966, according to the article.

The Division also sponsored 18 parties for 4000 children providing cakes, soft drinks and entertainment. The article says these parties made uncounted new friends—while numerous parents looked on, wide-eyed, at this unexpected display of American love for children.

"Helping Hand" also has a vocational training program for high school girls and adults. Donated sewing machines are used in local schools to teach the girls to sew.

The generosity and concern of the American people for their fighting men overseas is amplified in the paper by stories of an 11-year-old boy sending a package containing instant soft drinks and by a group of New York citizens sending a jukebox article telling of the success of with 250 records to the division for use in the enlisted men's club.

Melvin Gillie Installed As GC Kiwanis President

Melvin L. Gillie, 24 Oaklawn drive, manager of the W. T. Grant Co. store in Namooki Village shopping center, was installed as president of the Granite City Kiwanis Club in ceremonies conducted Monday evening at the Rose Bowl. He succeeds Peter F. Jellen, an Edwardsville contractor.

The dinner meeting also marked presentation of service awards to several club members, including a 21-year service award to the new top executive, and the initiation of Paul Worthen as a new member.

A past lieutenant governor of the Cleveland, O., Kiwanis International district, Gillie previously served in all local club offices prior to moving back here in 1964. Since that time, he has held various posts in the Granite City club, including vice-president last year.

Marvin Barnes, a past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis District 14, presided Monday as installing officer. Other new club officials include: Michael Tondas, first vice-president; Donald Russell, second vice-president; Allen Jesse, treasurer and Alvin Gross, secretary.

New directors installed were William Seebold, Ted Niciecki, Robert Lombardi, Bonard Males, Herbert Schmitt and the retiring president, Jellen expressed his appreciation for cooperation given him during his term of office. He was presented a bronze plaque for outstanding service and a past president's pin.

In accepting the gavel, Gillie told members that with his help he will strive to increase club membership and programs in the next 12 months. He appointed Donald Russell as program chairman and Tondas to supervise all committee reports. Club activities during 1966 were reviewed by Gross, who cited successful fund-raising campaigns sponsored by Kiwanians, including the annual peanut sale and boat race events. He also discussed various community projects, specifically those involving assistance to youth.

Members who received service awards were Barnes, 20 years; Roy Graham, 16 years; Gross, ten years; Freeman Wolf, nine years; William Herman and Bonard Males, eight years; Schmitt, six years; Jesse and Tondas, four years; and Wilbert Wagner, three years.

Gillie announced the Kiwanis annual mid-winter district conference will be held Tuesday, Jan. 24, at the Immanuel Methodist Church, Edwardsville. About ten members indicated they planned to attend.

Mrs. Mueller served cake and coffee to the ladies.

The Horseshoe Lake Rod and Gun club held a supper Sunday and a special officers' meeting. Officers present were Marion Owens, Art Orphan, Don King, Jerry Dion, Joe Robinson, Mrs. Eileen Robinson and Virgil Layton.

This is the season to be aware of deadly carbon monoxide fumes. Never sit in an idling car with all the windows up. Advise the Quad-City Safety Council. It is always a good practice to leave a window open, even a crack, while driving.

Oliver Bruch, 74, Dies; Suffered Heart Attack

Oliver L. Bruch, 74, of 2228 Cleveland blvd., widely-known in the Quad-City area, died at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been admitted to the hospital Friday after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home. He was believed to be in good health, prior to being stricken.

A local resident for 65 years, Mr. Bruch was born at Marine, Ill. Until retiring about three years ago, he had been employed since 1935 as office manager and bookkeeper with Marvick's Mock Beer Distributors, Inc., and its predecessor company.

Mr. Bruch was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis; St. Joseph's Catholic Church and the Granite City Moose Lodge 272, in which he held several offices in past years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Marie Bruch; one son, Walter Bruch of Granite City; four daughters, Mrs. George (Virginia Lee) Gale of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Francis (Louise) Rees of St. Peters, Mo., Mrs. Robert (Theresa) Gundlach of Granite City, and Sister Mary Judine, B.V.M., Dubuque, Ia.; a sister,

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

When was the last time your windshield wipers were checked? The Quad-City Safety Council states the ability to see through your windshield may mean the difference between life and death. Be sure your wiper blades are in good condition and have them replaced before they start to snow instead of sliding over it.

UF Agency Gives $3500 Aid To Madison Fire Victims

Five Madison families who were routed from their homes four days before Christmas by a fire in the building they lived in at Fourth street and Madison avenue have been given a total of $3500 by the American Red Cross, a United Fund Agency, to establish new households.

Three of the families were initially helped by Madison Junior Service Club members who found living quarters for the three and provided bedding for them. Schermer Brother's Market, who owned the fire-damaged building, provided food and Christmas trees for the families.

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, director of the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter, said that all five families have been extensively interviewed by an area Red Cross disaster specialist to determine their needs.

The families, after being interviewed, are then allowed to make their own food, clothing, utensil and appliance selections.

Mrs. Overbeck said that a fire or natural disaster to a family qualifies for national funds if the cost of rehabilitating the household meets a minimum cost requirement of $500.

"People often wonder if their United Fund contributions do any good, but disasters like this show that the small amount of United Fund money sent to National pays off."

In July of 1966, seven West Madison families received $1800 between them in a similar fire disaster.

The five families were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dodge, with three children; Mr. and Mrs. William Thomasson, with four children; Mrs. Lucy Householder, with seven children; Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Dorancichio with one child and Mrs. Carole Brown with one child.

Mrs. Overbeck said that one of the mothers during her disaster interviews said, "I have heard a lot about the United Fund and the Red Cross, and most of it wasn't good—but nobody had better say anything bad about them now."

A DISASTROUS FIRE that routed five families from flats in the 400 block of Madison avenue last month caused considerable loss of personal belongings. Paul Morris, disaster chairman for the Tri-City Red Cross chapter, contributors of $3500 to the needy families, inspected ruined living room furniture being replaced by the Red Cross.

Hospital to Study Parking Programs

A study of parking needs at St. Elizabeth Hospital was authorized Monday afternoon by members of the hospital's lay advisory board, headed by Joseph Glik.

In charge of the survey is A. C. Stover, a member of the board, who is to get data from doctors and hospital personnel as well as statistics on parking needs for visitors.

Stover plans to visit a lot established by St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis, which is controlled by gates and which has a fee of 25 cents for a day's parking.

Several proposals submitted by parking firms also are to be studied.

Security measures at the hospital also are to be given further study. The hospital now has a detective agency employed, and is studying the possible need to keep all doors, with the exception of the main lobby door, locked during night hours, and with the rear door to the employee parking lot posted with one of the detectives.

In other business, Sister Mary Thomas, administrator, distributed copies of the booklet outlining the hospital's employee retirement plan. The program was devised by board member Austin Witter and was started last year. Normal retirement would be on the first day on any month following a 65th birthday.

Early retirement may be requested by employees 55 years of age with 10 year service. While normal retirement is at 65, the hospital may request that certain employees with skills in short demand remain employed beyond the normal date.

During the meeting, Sister Thomas presented a framed certificate of appreciation to Stover for his terms as president of the advisory board.

MECCA Opposes SIU-SW Book Store as Planned

MECCA, composed of Chambers of Commerce in Madison and St. Clair counties, elected new officers and criticized operation of a book store as presently proposed at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus in a meeting held Monday night at Holiday Inn.

A motion was adopted requesting individual Chambers to oppose the sale of articles, such as apparel and jewelry, in the book store, as well as opening it to the general public. It is planned to carry the protest to the Illinois legislature, if necessary.

Members of MECCA described the proposed operation as "unfair competition to existing retailers," but pointed out there was no objection to the sale of books, stationery and other supplies for classroom purposes to students or faculty members.

New officers elected were George Berry, Wood River, president; Arnold Cassens, Edwardsville, vice-president; and Clarence Dunn, Wood River, secretary. Earl Jukes, Collinsville, is retiring president.

Speaker at the meeting was Eugene Moody, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, who reviewed the organization and objectives of the Council. Comprising eight members each from Illinois and Missouri, together with a representative of Bi-State Development Agency, it is the vehicle for bi-state planning which is required by the federal government in order for governmental units in the metropolitan area to receive funds for highways and other public projects, he said.

A question and answer period followed his talk.

Attending the MECCA meeting from here were C. of C. President Howard Kaseberg and director Leo Konzen. The organization is made up of Chambers from Alton, Belleville, East St. Louis, Collinsville, Edwardsville, the Tri-Cities and Wood River.

History of Pencils Told at Rotary Meet

The history and manufacture of pencils were described at a luncheon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday at the YMCA by Issy Voda of St. Louis, secretary of the Wallace Pencil Co.

He presented samples of different types of pencils and automatic pens to the members.

Edward Meng was program chairman. The meeting was conducted by William Thelke, club president, and was attended by 47 members.

Schools Seeking An 'Exceptional Administrator'

"An opportunity for the exceptional school administrator" is the heading on Granite City school brochures viewed by board members Monday night and forwarded this week to the committee that will screen superintendent applications.

Drawings of Grigsby Junior high school and Parkway grade school are shown on the cover of the pamphlets, which will be circulated to about 150 potential candidates for the 14,000-pupil district's top administrative position.

Applicants up to the age of 52, married and now in school administration will be considered. A doctorate degree is desirable but not essential, and the man must have or be eligible for full Illinois certification.

Past Experience
Experience requirements are ten years or more in public schools; service as a top administrator or assistant for at least five years; work as administrator in a public school system enrolling 5000 or more students; experience in a metropolitan area; community participation; and experience in negotiation of working agreements with teachers and other staff members. There must be understanding of vocational and adult education and various state and federal subsidy programs.

Other points to be considered are breadth of training and experience; ability to communicate at all levels; business and curriculum experience; bond issue and building program experience; ability to delegate authority and sift trivial and educational philosophy and public relations aptitude.

The position had a current salary of $20,500, and the pay of a new superintendent is to be commensurate with his ability and experience.

GC Youth's Trial Is Under Way

A jury trial for James Leroy English Jr., 20, of 2157 Robert avenue, was under way in Madison county circuit court yesterday and today on a charge of aggravated battery.

He was arrested Sept. 4 in a fracas in the 2500 block of Circle drive.

Two cases on this week's criminal trial calendar were dropped — against Jimmie Taylor, 30, of St. Louis, charged with theft at the Sterling Television store in Madison on May 24, and an aggravated battery charge against Charles T. Howland, 23, of 1914 Edwardsville road.

Another charge of unlawful use of weapons against Howland remains on the calendar. Removed with leave to re-arrest was an indecent liberties charge against James Davis, 20, of Rural Route One.

A motion was entered for a competency hearing for Martin Craig, 39, of 1633 Third street, charged with burglary at the Elvira garage in Madison last June 22. A hearing date is to be set.

A theft hearing against Charles Miller, 30, of 4630 Maryville road, charged with stealing office supplies from the Venice school system on July 25, was re-set for Monday.

C of C Group Planning Boys Tour of Industry

The Citizenship committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce has completed arrangements for a visit of area industry plants Feb. 8 by approximately 300 boys who are members of the Granite City high school senior class, according to Dale Arnett, chairman of the committee.

Final plans for the tour were made during a meeting of the committee Monday afternoon at the Rose Bowl. Attending the session were Arnett, Cliff Blankenship, Irvin C. State Jr., Leo H. Konzen and Lawrence McCutley, principal of the high school.

All of the large industries in the area will be invited to participate in the program. Each Boy will be given his choice of the plant he wishes to tour.

The tour will start at 8:30 a.m. following a 15-minute talk by Chamber of Commerce President Howard Kaseberg.

The tour will be conducted during the morning so that the boys can be back at school for the lunch hour. Arrangements will be made for special buses to be available for the tour and to return the boys to school.

Library's New Bookmobile Now Visiting 14 Schools

The new tractor-trailer bookmobile, purchased at a cost of over $18,000, began making regularly scheduled visits to 14 Granite City schools this week. The bookmobile which has central heating and is air conditioned was a comfortable 80 degrees when students boarded to select their favorite book.

John Foster, driver-clerk and Mrs. Carol Canady, bookmobile clerk, both said students now have ample room to walk in compared to the narrow aisle of the old bookmobile.

The 35-foot long, seven-foot wide trailer will accommodate more than 600 books, compared to the 500 that crowded the old unit.

During school visits this week, the 220-volt gasoline powered electric generator was tested, and found to work excellently, according to Foster. "We want to make sure that everything works well—especially during the cold weather," he said.

—GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY—

Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today that he has submitted a proposal to the General Assembly requiring all motor vehicle operators to be re-examined every 10 years upon applying for renewal of their licenses.

The measure also calls for issuance of licenses valid for five years at a fee of $10, with $7 the fee to be deposited in the Driver Education Fund and the remaining $3 in the Road Fund.

Present licenses are valid for three years at a fee of $3.

The measure would raise needed funds for the High School Driver Education Program and

The measure may have to be amended, because at present the federal government has not announced its requirements concerning periodic re-examination of drivers.

Re-examination every 10 years is proposed in the measure because studies conducted by members of his staff indicate the costs of examination at three- or six-year intervals would be substantially higher, Powell said.

Ridiculous offer, isn't it? Of course, you wouldn't sell at that price. But look at your fire insurance. Would it cover the cost of replacement if your home burned? Or is it ridiculously low compared to the present value of your house? Ask your MFA Insurance agent to review your fire insurance coverage with you.

Spare the Snow Shovel And Save Your Heart

Warning to all middle-aged overweight men and women: This winter, spare the snow shovel and save your heart.

Every winter, the combination of a heavy, wet snowfall, wind blowing across the driveway and poorly-conditioned persons laboring with a snow shovel leads to hundreds of fatal heart attack cases.

Why is this combination so deadly?

First of all, the energy output in shoveling a moderately-heavy snowfall is about the same as if the individual were running seven or eight miles an hour. In the poorly-conditioned person, this unaccustomed strain may be enough in itself to cause a heart attack.

Cold Boosts Blood Pressure

Secondly, exposure to cold causes the blood pressure to rise. Add to this the extra effort of walking through snow compounded by at least 10 pounds of overcoat, galoshes, sweater, scarf, hat and gloves—and the total effect becomes dangerous.

To protect against fatal heart attack or the painful symptom of angina pectoris, all middle-aged and elderly persons should restrict their exercises to the home during severe weather.

This advice is based on the anatomy and physical limitations of the heart itself.

The heart is a muscular pump, nourished principally by blood flowing through the coronary arteries. In elderly persons, especially, the coronary arteries may become partially obstructed by a thickening of the arterial walls, resulting in a reduced supply of blood to nourish the heart muscle.

Don't Push Stalled Car

With vigorous exercise—such as shoveling snow or pushing a stalled automobile—the heart must pump much faster and the muscle, therefore, needs more blood than the partially obstructed coronary arteries can supply. The resulting under-nourishment of the heart muscle produces the chest pain called angina pectoris.

If severe, this undernourished condition can lead to a fatal heart attack.

Snow shoveling should be left for the younger generation or those accustomed to regular physical exercise. If you don't fall into either of these categories, but insist on shoveling your own walk this winter, tackle the job in reasonable stages—and stay alive.

Man Gets 20 Days in Jail

James H. Hutchinson, 60, of Clarksville, Tenn., was sentenced to 20 days in the Madison county jail Monday in magistrate's court on a charge of unlawful use of weapons. He was arrested in Granite City during the weekend.

Youth Fined for Liquor

EXCELLENT SKIING FACILITIES are available in Illinois with lodges supplying fine food and other accommodations making the slopes even more inviting, the Illinois Department of Business & Economic Development, Tourism Division, points out.

Skiing Becomes Major Sport in Illinois

Man invented skis many years ago as a method of traveling on foot across the snow-covered countryside. Now skiing, no longer an important means of transportation, has become a major American sport. Some folks say two things caused its recent popularity—chairlifts and stretch pants.

There was a time when most Illinois residents associated skiing with some of our sister states to the north or a long trek to the far east or west.

This has changed. People no longer have to have vacation time accumulated, advance travel reservations and a spot of cash set aside in order to enjoy skiing.

The perfection of snow-making machines has made it possible to capitalize on many wonderful Illinois hills and to build up large ski resorts based on a full season of skiing activities from Thanksgiving to Easter. Having skiing facilities so close to Illinois metropolitan centers permits those with modest incomes to enjoy a full day or weekend devoted to "sun and fun" without interfering with normal working hours.

Night Lighting

Night lighting on the slopes of most resorts brings skiing into the same category as bowling for many enthusiasts. They think no more of heading for the hills after a day in class or on the job than the golfer does of spending a few summer hours after work on the links.

For this new breed of commuter-skier, the cost can be surprisingly low. With membership at some resort, for less than $50, exclusive of equipment—a person can ski every weekend of the season and evenings too. And the occasional skier, or the beginner who wants to give it a try before investing in gear, can rent everything—including insurance.

Healthful Activity

Doctors claim skiing is a very healthful activity as it helps circulation and exercises muscles not used in walking. Falls in their forties and up are usually advised to take it easy until they are in condition. A lot, of course, depends upon the individual but many resorts have pre-season conditioning sessions for the young and old. There are classes too for advanced and beginning skiers before the snow falls. Tons of salt, creating the same effect as real snow, may be used for this "dry land" practice.

Ski facilities within easy traveling distance encourage many Illinois residents to make this a family activity. There are usually student rates and if the children are too young to ski, some resorts provide babysitting service.

But skiers do not live by snow alone. The variety of events planned for their recreation and pleasure may include tobogganing, ice skating, swimming parties at motel or resort pools, song fests and dances. Movies are popular too. These may be from other parts of the world demonstrating kick turns by an Olympic star or candid shots allowing the viewer to critique his own skiing form.

Fashion shows are often after-ski specials and may display a beautiful young model attired in white stretch pants and turtle neck jersey with fiery red fur-lined boots as well as the latest in equipment. It was quite the vogue after world war II to buy a pair of wooden Army surplus skis for $10. But that has changed. The skier now, as with all hobbyists, always finds something new to consider such as metal or plastic skis with inlays and two colors—costing over $100.

Ski Clubs
Railroads run special excursions offering a full day of skiing, transportation and meals for a "minimum" fee. In metropolitan Chicago alone there are approximately 40 ski clubs which sponsor one day and longer ski trips and local meetings dedicated to increasing their skiing skills.

Ski resorts are located in some of the most scenic parts of the state, scattered along the north from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River. The magnificent lodges have snack bars with many specializing in fine foods. There usually are panoramic views from the heated lodge interiors and for a small admission fee the non-skier can observe his more adventuresome neighbors as he participates in this increasingly popular way to "Enjoy Illinois."

"If you can walk, you can ski," claim resort owners. They back up their appeal of "challenging slopes" with practice slopes and full staffs of competent instructors. This appeal to the non-skier and the mushrooming of the local clubs with special programs for the novice certainly accounts in part for the fantastic spurt of popularity of this sport in Illinois which only recently made any claim to be a ski resort area.

For information on ski resorts in Northern Illinois and local "snow" conditions, telephone Chicago Area Code 312 CE 6 Snow.

Illinois remained the nation's $180,000,000 higher than in 1965, said. Illinois exports amount to about 9% of the national total. The dollar volume of Illinois agricultural products exported during the 1965-66 fiscal year was $866,000,000, or $181,000,000 more than the totals for either Texas or California, which tied for second place.

Gene H. Graves, director of the state agency, said in an annual report that the value of Illinois products sold abroad in 1966 for second place in foreign sales total $270,000,000, which is about of manufactured goods," Graves calendar year.

The division of export expansion coordinated the 1965 Illinois sea tonnage handled by the Port of Chicago and two significant export promotion undertakings by the Department of Business and Economic Development's division of export expansion.

Agricultural export totals are measured by the fiscal year and Trade Mission to the Far East which resulted in sales during 1966 for participating companies.

Graves pointed out that other notable developments in the exporting business during 1966 included a record amount of overseas tonnage handled by the Port of Chicago and two significant export promotion undertakings by the Department of Business and Economic Development's division of export expansion.

Governor Urges New Law Enforcement Bills

Stringent laws on gambling and crimes of violence and legislation controlling sale and possession of firearms were assigned to toll roads. Gov. Otto Kerner in a special message to the General Assembly this week as part of a law enforcement program.

The governor also recommended new traffic safety laws and increase of 400 in the Illinois State Highway Police, 200 to be noted that some of the governor's proposals were passed by the 1965 General Assembly and vetoed by the governor.

The governor also requested legislation authorizing the Illinois Liquor Control Commission to revoke licenses of any tavern operator issued a federal gambling stamp, pointing out that 2000 licenses were revoked for that reason until the Illinois Supreme Court ruled out the procedure.

Asks Firearm Control
As for firearms control, the governor asked laws requiring registration of all handguns sold to the general public and licensing of owners of handguns by local police.

He also recommended "work release" legislation under which certain prison inmates would be released during the daytime to work on regular jobs, returning to the prison at night and during the weekend.

Income of the working prisoners would be used in part to pay confinement costs, help support dependents and create an escrow fund to be given to the prisoner upon his release.

Recommended traffic legislation sets minimum standards for motorcycle, motor scooters and other driven cycles in such areas as handlebars, seats, footrests and brakes and would require operators to pass a special written examination and road test.

Also requested was an "implied consent" law under which a driver in Illinois would agree to a drunken driver test if requested by an officer.

Standards for Ambulances
New legislation submitted to the Legislature includes a bill by Sen. Arrington, setting more stringent standards for ambulances and their drivers. The bill provides for licensing of all ambulances and drivers, attendants and attendant-drivers, setting fees of $15 per vehicle and $5 per person.

It would require safety and sanitation inspections, special medical equipment and sufficient liability insurance.

Senate Democratic Whip Alan J. Dixon of Belleville has introduced a bill that would require youths under 18 to pass a driver's education course to get a driver's license. The measure is part of Secretary of State Paul Powell's legislative program.

Sen. Paul Simon, Democrat of Troy, filed a bill to appropriate $130,000 to pay the full salaries of senators elected to four-year terms in 1964 but reappointed out of office in mid-term.

Sen. Everett E. Laughlin, Republican of Freeport, filed a bill to provide a $45,000 deficiency appropriation for the Illinois Crime Commission. A bill to allow city councils to limit firemen and policemen to residents was filed by Sen. Hudson R. Sours, Republican of Peoria.

4 1/2 Weeks are Left To Get State License

Just a little less than five weeks now remain for motorists to get their 1967 license plates displayed on their vehicles, Secretary of State Paul Powell warned today.

Midnight, Feb. 15, is the deadline for having this year's plates mounted on the vehicles, "not merely applied for or resting on a table at home or being carried in the car's glove compartment. To be sure of having their plates in time for the deadline, motorists planning to apply for them by mail should have their applications in the Secretary of State's office no later than Feb. 1.

"Because license plates are fourth class mail, we can give no assurance that motorists who do not allow at least two weeks for processing of their applications and delivery of their plates will receive them in time for the deadline," Powell said. "In some cases, two weeks have elapsed between the time we mailed the plates and the applicant received them."

At the present time, motor vehicle registration is about 400,000 behind last year's total at the same time, simply because the applications have not been received, Powell said.

Sheep Farmers Filing Deadline is Jan. 31

With the 1966 wool payment program marketing year ended Dec. 31, farmers who sold shorn wool, unshorn lambs between Jan. 1, 1966 and Dec. 31 are being advised to present sales slips at the ASCS county office and file applications for incentive payment before Jan. 31.

The county office is located at 110 North Main street, Edwardsville.

Another 96 projects with an estimated cost of $78,853,000 are in the design stage, according to Francis S. Lorenz, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Four Zone Centers for the State Mental Health program were completed during 1966. Three other centers are substantially done and will be ready for occupancy soon.

Other state building projects completed under the supervision of the Division of Architecture and Engineering in 1966 include: Dormitory classrooms for the Illinois School for the Deaf, Jacksonville; Medical-Surgical Building, Alton State Hospital, Alton; residential buildings, Anna State Hospital, Anna; Medical-Surgical Building, Dixon State School, Dixon; Medical-Surgical Building, East Moline State Hospital, East Moline; girls' cottage and annex, Lincoln State School, Lincoln; and an addition to Lehman Hall, Peoria State Hospital, Peoria.

Highway Program

Gov. Kerner has announced the 1967 Primary Highway Improvement Program which will provide for right-of-way acquisition and construction projects costing an estimated $268,500,000. The 1966 program was for $217,500,000 of which about $200,000,000 was placed under contract.

Of the total estimated cost, $183,600,000 is earmarked for work on interstate highways and $82,840,000 for noninterstate highways. Right-of-ways are expected to total about one-eighth of the program.

Of the $268,500 estimated available, the state will provide $37,895,000, local sources will provide $14,664,000, federal funds will provide $195,941,000 of which $167,600,000 must be used on interstate highways and $28,341,000 on non-interstate highways.

New Laws Effective

The new laws passed by the 7th General Assembly and enforced by the Illinois Department of Agriculture have been especially effective during 1966, according to Robert M. Schneider, department director.

The Division of Livestock and Poultry Industry reports that the Livestock Dealer License Law and the Pet Shop Operator and Dog Dealer Licensing Laws have been successful in preventing the movement of diseased livestock and in providing sanitary quarters and the sale of healthy pets to the people of Illinois.

Dr. Paul B. Dehn, superintendent of the division, reported that 438 persons have been licensed under the Livestock Dealer Licensing Law, 65 persons have been issued Pet Shop Operator Licenses and 128 persons have been issued Dog Dealer Licenses.

Traffic Deaths Down

December traffic deaths in Illinois totaled 211, according to provisional reports released by the Division of Highways and the State Highway police. This is a decrease of 17% from the 253 deaths in the same month last year.

Traffic fatalities in the state for the 10-day Christmas holiday week decreased 47% from the previous year. There were 47 deaths in the period from Dec. 23 through Jan. 2, compared with 89 the previous year.

During the first six months of 1966 deaths showed an increase of 19% over those for the same period a year ago. The number of fatalities during the last six months of the year increased by six per cent over the identical period during 1965.

Fee Areas Fishing

Illinois anglers paid about a half million dollars to fish at fee areas last year, according to a report released recently by the Division of Fisheries, Illinois Department of Conservation. In 1966, the department licensed 178 areas. A state license is required of anglers who fish at fee areas.

Fishermen may pay an annual membership fee, a daily fee or for the pounds of fish caught. Annual memberships cost from $10 to $400 a year. Daily fees ranged from 90 cents to $3, and the poundage rate varies from 60 cents to $1.75, depending upon the species of fish desired. Trout are the most expensive.

Man Fined, Jailed

Albert L. Tabbs, 20, of East St. Louis, has been fined $100 plus $5 costs and sentenced to three days in jail in magistrate's court on a charge of driving without a license. He was fined Dec. 27 by Madison police.

57 Take Non-Teaching Jobs from Ill. State

Fifty-seven Illinois State University students accepted positions outside the teaching field during the 1966 placement season when the university's bureau of appointments first expanded its services to include opportunities for placement in business, industry and government agencies.

In contrast, 81% of the 125 bachelor's degree candidates in 1966 accepted teaching positions.

Our engineers have become used to seeing their ideas show up on other cars. Two years later, and apparently so have a lot of car buyers. Because 1967 Pontiacs are selling faster than 1966 Pontiacs. And '66 was a record year.

When you think about it, why should you wait around for innovations like our disappearing windshield wipers? Or for imaginative options like our exclusive hood-mounted tach? Especially when you consider that our engineers wouldn't turn a Pontiac loose with anything less than a standard 400 cubic inch V-8. Or a Tempest with anything less than our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six. (Not to mention all those new safety features like GM's energy absorbing steering column and a dual master cylinder brake system with warning lamp.)

In short, our engineers seem to have done it again. They may even start asking for royalties on the copies.

Depot Hiring Students On Part-Time Basis

The Granite City Army Depot is employing part-time student workers under the Youth Opportunity-Back-to-School drive during the current school year.

Eleven students from low-income families now are working at jobs where they are employed up to 16 hours per week and earn $1.25 per hour.

All students in the program must maintain an "acceptable school standing" at an accredited high school or college and must spend their earnings on school expenses.

In positions ranging from typing to janitorial, students also gain work experience necessary for regular adult employment. At the depot, students find that a "full day's work" is required in return for a day's pay.

In this manner they have an opportunity to gain self-respect, a sense of belonging and hope for a better future while providing needed help to the depot during the Vietnam crisis, depot officials said.

Several positions currently are open and interested persons should contact the nearest Illinois State Employment Service office for information.

IT TAKES LONGER
NOW TO BECOME OLD

In the past there always were a few people who lived long lives. But, most of them acquired the disease of old age before they were fifty years of age. After that they suffered from pains, aches, lack of energy, chronic coughs and other miseries.

Modern knowledge, diagnostic techniques, and positive acting drugs have been greatly improved. Now many people are young at seventy and hope to stay that way. To a great degree, how long you will live depends on you regularly having your physician check your body. By treating any ailment before it has time to become a serious problem, you can add many years to your life.

The chief topic discussed at the meeting was local and county government. A written quiz was held afterward with Dan Monken receiving the high score for the highest number of correct answers. Scott Kolesa and Kirk Danner tied for second place and several prizes were awarded.

Volunteers to be Honored At Alton State Hospital

Alton State Hospital's annual volunteer services program is rescheduled for next Sunday after a postponement caused by icy weather, which spoiled the original ceremony on Dec. 3.

Mrs. Marjorie Dintelmann, volunteer supervisor, said the agenda would remain the same as previously planned, including a talk by Circuit Judge Harold B. Clark of the Illinois Third Judicial District.

Focus will be on individual and group volunteers who provided more than 14,000 hours of service to patients over the last year. They will receive citations starting at 2:30 p.m. in the recreation hall.

Also to be recognized are 12 area radio stations and newspapers which helped promote volunteer activities during the year. In addition, attention will be given to special volunteers who are not officially enrolled in the program, but give their time and talent occasionally.

Among the individual volunteers being honored is Mrs. Ethel Harney of East Alton who will be recognized for 2000 hours accumulated over the past eight years. Her contribution this past year was 400 hours.

Fifty-nine other individuals will receive credit ranging from 50 to 100 hours, while another 33 will be cited for having served in some capacity during the year. Forty-one groups also will be recognized.

To receive a pin or a guard, a volunteer must accumulate time in 100-hour units. Those not meeting this requirement receive certificates.

Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent, and Mrs. Dintelmann, will make the presentations. The patient choir under the direction of Mrs. Bess Westbrook, music therapist, will entertain.

Handicapped Students Swim Program to Start Jan. 24th

The first instructional swim program for handicapped children will get under way Tuesday, Jan. 24, through the joint co-operative efforts of the Granite City board of education, the YMCA and three other local service groups. Daily classes will be held for a six-week period, concluding March 3.

Parents of Central junior high school seventh and eighth grade students, eligible to participate, will hear an explanation of the entire program and its requirements at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Granite City school board offices, 2014 State street. Letters inviting parents and guardians to attend have been mailed this week.

Harold Thomas, director of special education for Granite City schools, and Michael Jesse, YMCA physical education director and swimming technical advisor, are to acquaint parents with the details of the experimental pilot project.

Madison of 30
If successful, similar programs will be set up encompassing a greater number of handicapped children in the Quad-City area. A maximum of 30 youngsters will be involved in the initial program, Thomas said today.

Approval of the instructional swim series was granted by the local school authorities in September. Swim class instructors are to be furnished by the Tri-Cities American Red Cross Chapter and the YMCA, which also is providing facilities for lessons. Recently, a special instructor's class was conducted by Jesse at the "Y."

The program is being underwritten by the Madison Lions Club which is expected to be represented at Monday's meeting. Locker room assistance will be provided by members of the Granite City Association for Aid to the Retarded and Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr. has agreed to serve as medical technical consultant.

THE PENNEY STORY

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

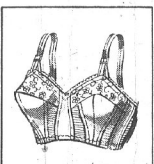

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price in advertising does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," one of our buyers said to me. "Every sale we make today is designed to bring the customer back tomorrow."

Income Tax Questions, Answers

Tax Refund for Some Students

By Jay G. Philpott
District Director,
Internal Revenue Service

Q—My wife and I are both college students who are supported by our parents. Each of us earned less than $600 last summer and think we should get a refund of the withheld income tax. Can we file for a refund without endangering the exemption our parents take for us?

A—Yes, both of you can file a return to get your refund. Your parents can still claim exemptions for you and your wife if they provided more than half the support for each of you.

Q—I owe some taxes for last year. When I was called into your office about this, they said they would attach my salary unless I agreed to settle up. Can you really attach my salary?

A—Under the law, IRS may attach salaries and other payments when it is necessary to protect the revenue. These measures are taken only when a taxpayer refuses or neglects to satisfy a tax liability.

Q—Inheritance tax. I came into a small inheritance. Do I have to declare that as income when I file my federal income tax return?

A—No. There is no federal income tax on inheritances. There is a federal estate tax, however, which is levied on the total inheritance before it is distributed to the beneficiaries. Income from your inherited property is taxable income.

Q—How soon are new tax forms ready? I want to get my refund as soon as I can.

A—Tax forms are available at IRS offices as well as at many post offices and banks as of the first of the year. Most taxpayers have received either a 1040 or 1040A tax package in the mail.

Q—Every Christmas when one of our local charities helps one of our fund-raising drives. Can I take a deduction for the time I devote to this?

A—No, the value of your time or services is not deductible. Any out-of-pocket expenses you incur as a result of the charitable work may be deducted as a charitable contribution.

Q—Can you tell me what a wash sale is? I've seen this term used frequently in connection with taxes.

A—A wash sale usually refers to the sale of financial securities such as stocks and bonds. If you sell securities and then repurchase them within 30 days before or after the sale, the gain or loss is disallowed for tax purposes.

there was an obvious error in eliminating the possibility of independent candidates. Even for such high offices as president, it is possible for independent aspirants to appear on the ballot. Surely, for such offices as supervisor, town auditor and highway commissioner there is no good reason to close the door against all candidates who did not happen to be chosen by one of the two major parties.

The development smacks of authoritarianism and may violate constitutional rights. The General Assembly should take steps to prevent the kind of ill-considered new township election statute.

University Competition With Retail Stores Unjustified

Even with clarifications given and the limitations indicated last week in a conference between administrators and merchants, there is substantial and valid concern over proposed SIU-SW store operations in the university's student center.

It can be accurately contended by university officials that financing of such centers traditionally is based on student fees and business, that inclusion of the building within the original $25 million construction bond issue would have reduced the number of classrooms built, and that the eventual economic impact of SIU-SW may dwarf the present level of university-generated economic activity in Madison and St. Clair counties.

But it would be unrealistic and unfair to consider the retail sale as "fair game" in accumulating funds to retile the multi-million-dollar university center loan. Similar justification, citing the worthy objective, could be used to explain invasion of virtually any kind of business.

Many Quad-City and Southwest Illinois firms contributed toward purchasing land for SIU-SW. Even those that did not make sizeable donations hardly deserve to be placed in competition with a government-related enterprise not subject to many of the costs faced by retailers.

The only fair yardstick is not the yearly sales target but restriction to goods related to the educational program, and to people affiliated with the university as students or employees. If necessary to accomplish this, appropriate legislation should be enacted.

Amendment Solves Presidential Succession, Disability Issues

During the interval between the death of President Kennedy and the next scheduled presidential election, House Speaker McCormack stood next in succession to President Johnson, spotlighting the good and bad points—experience and advanced age—of the Congressional seniority system.

The 25th amendment calls for the vice-president to become president on the death of the president. It also sets up a disability plan under which a vice-president could become acting president by the president notifying Congress he cannot discharge his duties, by action of a majority of the cabinet, or by a two-thirds vote of the House and Senate if the proposed disability is challenged by the president.

Already approved by 31 states and needing seven more, the July 1965 document currently is being considered by the House and Senate in favor of the amendment.

In Illinois, it is 1967 Senate Joint Resolution No. 3.

In regard to clarification of conceptual stress-relationships in the causal context, let me write a few inelegant, many-termed words.

The above sentence is a hashing-up of parts of several articles that have appeared in this paper within the space of a month.

What I have written in jest, however, is not necessarily any worse gibberish than the original articles must have seemed to the paper's readers.

One of the basic factors in learning to use language effectively is an awareness of the level or level of communication to be aimed for.

Baby Talk Vs. Symbolism
This may range from baby-talk at one end of the spectrum to abstract symbolism, logic or pure mathematics at the other.

Somewhere in the middle of the scale falls a wide and not too clearly defined area known as popular journalism.

Journalism may be sensationally vulgar or semi-scholarly, but it is always aimed at the general reader, not the specialist.

It usually avoids baby-talk (except in a few British and American tabloids aimed at the mental underdeveloped), and just as carefully avoids the technical or abstruse, not to speak of the recondite, which is abstract and esoteric, the general reader, could not understand or would find unpleasant.

The Reader Is Boss
In good journalism it is the reader, who is served, entertained, instructed, edified, never baffled, revolted, or ignored.

Thus in their daily newspaper readers would not wish to find a detailed technical account of an amputation performed under anesthesia, or a dissection of a language, though medical men would find it exhilarating.

Nor would the reader want to be confronted over his morning coffee by a sentence like: "Schlick's view of causation that is conceived as obtaining between events that are in spatial and temporal proximity, and causality of each other, into the legal theory of 'last condition,' as well as Robert Mayer's conception of quantitative connection of cause and effect."

It is possible that the sea of non-halts and admires the express of trivial oblivion, the impatient and impatient of frightened stupidity, such an honest passion, unlabelled.

Very amusing; but he didn't quantitative connection of cause and effect to "Reader's Digest."

Leisure Time Workshop Will be held at ISU

The challenge of increased leisure time for a community and its residents will be explored in a workshop for university and college faculty members from throughout the state Jan. 20-21 at Illinois State University.

The workshop is one of seven being conducted at state universities as part of a program initiated by the University of Illinois and Northern Illinois University to provide training for consultants in development of community resources. A grant from the Illinois Board of Higher Education is being used to finance the workshops.

Dr. Francis Brown, director of extension and field services at ISU and workshop leader, said the program is designed to provide specialized training to persons with appropriate qualifications so that they may act more effectively as consultants to local community groups in development of community resources. Thirty to 40 persons are expected to participate in the workshop, which runs from 1:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 20, to noon Saturday, Jan. 21. All sessions will be in the University Union.

Speaker for Friday night's dinner will be Donald Neer, executive director of the National Industrial Recreation Association, who makes his home in La Grange. His topic will be, "Increased Leisure Time—Its Ramifications on the Local Community." As publisher of "Recreation Management," a national recreation publication for business and industry, Neer is widely recognized as one of the best informed persons on industrial recreation in the country.

Dr. Richard R. Bond, vice-president and dean of the faculty at ISU, will open the Friday session with a talk on "Higher Education's Role in Meeting the Challenge for Community Planning."

Outstanding Booklet

The Midwest Association of State Departments of Agriculture has recently released an outstanding booklet entitled "Midwest Agribusiness." This booklet gives a statistical analysis of midwest agriculture and its impact on the nation's economy and international trade. The summarization of Illinois agriculture is as follows:

"Illinois leads the nation in total agricultural exports. Illinois is first in corn production, and the first state in the nation to produce a billion dollar crop of any one single commodity. The state is also first in soybeans, producing one-fourth of the nation's total supply. Other production firsts are Swiss cheese, red clover seed, horseradish, onion sets, ornamental shrubs and cut roses.

The state ranks second in production of hogs, third in sales of all livestock, and fourth in marketing grain fed cattle. Illinois farm firsts are Swiss cheese, red clover seed, horseradish, onion sets, ornamental shrubs and cut roses.

Agriculture and Youth

Agriculture offers opportunities for many interesting and rewarding careers to young people. More than thirty percent of the jobs in our nation are related directly or indirectly to agriculture. The difficulty of obtaining adequate competent personnel for professional posts in agriculture continues to grow. The basic problem is that not enough young men have been entering the field.

Illinois Director of Extension Dr. John B. Clear reports more vacancies than usual in the agricultural extension staff in Illinois. Of course the situation has been aggravated by Vietnam.

Dr. Karl Gardner, associate dean of the Illinois College of Agriculture, provides the following information on the need for vocational agriculture teachers:

"The shortage of men prepared to teach vocational agriculture is already serious, and the situation is rapidly becoming worse.

Each year there is a 9.5% turnover in vocational agriculture teachers in the United States. Last year, 1958, new vocational agriculture teachers became a qualified, but only 671 actually entered teaching. This was due in part to military requirements and in part to the other excellent opportunities for all graduates of our colleges of agriculture, including those in agriculture education.

The number of people receiving B.S. degrees in agriculture education has been declining every year since 1961. In the next three years, over 1300 vacancies will be open in the United States each year.

Dr. Gardner said in Illinois we were short seven teachers this fall. The shortage would have been greater if we had not hired seven or eight agricultural graduates who had not met the requirements for a teacher's certificate. We also pressed into service.

M. DUANE COMPTON

M. Duane Compton, formerly of Granite City, has been appointed director of purchasing for American Steel Foundries, Chicago-based operating unit of Amsted Industries.

He succeeds Frank H. Hanfelder, also formerly of Granite City, who is retiring after 44 years of company service.

Compton, a 30-year veteran with American Steel Foundries, has been assistant director of purchasing since 1962. Prior to that he headed purchasing operations of the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

He joined the company in Granite City in 1936 as a general clerk in the stores department. Compton is a U. S. Navy veteran, is a member of the Purchasing Agents Association of Chicago and the Illinois Athletic Club. He lives with his wife and daughter in Flossmoor, Ill.

American Steel Foundries, a major producer of steel castings and forgings for railroad and general industrial use, operates plants in Alliance, Ohio, and East Chicago and Hammond, Ind. In addition to the Granite City plant.

Dr. Karl Gardner, associate dean of the Illinois College of Agriculture, provides the following information on the need for vocational agriculture teachers:

"The shortage of men prepared to teach vocational agriculture is already serious, and the situation is rapidly becoming worse.

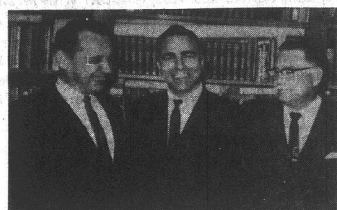

Each year there is a 9.5% turnover in vocational agriculture teachers in the United States. Last year, 1958, new vocational agriculture teachers became a qualified, but only 671 actually entered teaching. This was due in part to military requirements and in part to the other excellent opportunities for all graduates of our colleges of agriculture, including those in agriculture education.

The number of people receiving B.S. degrees in agriculture education has been declining every year since 1961. In the next three years, over 1300 vacancies will be open in the United States each year.

Dr. Gardner said in Illinois we were short seven teachers this fall. The shortage would have been greater if we had not hired seven or eight agricultural graduates who had not met the requirements for a teacher's certificate. We also pressed into service.

GUEST SPEAKER, Rev. Neil Eskelin

Rev. Neil Eskelin will be pupil guest Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th street and Grand avenue, in the 7:30 p.m. evangelistic service. Rev. Eskelin has traveled around the world as an evangelist and is presently active in the Knif and Fork Club as a lecturer on Africa. He will be on the faculty at Evangel College in Springfield, Mo., this fall.

3 Baptist Associations Plan Training Project

Baptist training leaders from three associations are working with the superintendent of missions for Madison County Baptist Association to project plans to stimulate and make more effective the training of individual church members.

Taking part in the conferences are Illinois State Baptist Training director Bluford Sloan; Supt. of Missions Rev. W. J. Richardson, Madison County Baptist Association; Rev. James Doorn, pastor of the Meadow Heights Baptist Church, Collinsville, as Baptist associations are making social training director; Rev.

Richard Dillender, pastor of the Maryville Baptist Church, Maryville, Rev. Carl Jacobs, superintendent of Missions, Alton Industrial Baptist Association; and Rev. Sleeman Bridgeman, superintendent of missions, East St. Louis Baptist Association.

This training is being planned for the 28,000 church members of the 80 Baptist churches in this area in cooperation with the other Southern Baptist Churches in the Southern Baptist Association. The Alton, Madison, Madison County and East St. Louis Baptist Associations are making the arrangements.

ice some former teachers who arized. Despite this reassuring finding, however, the committee concluded that increased need for pest control in the future would require an expanded research and information control program to guarantee balance of the benefit-risk equation and to assure continued public confidence.

Committee recommendations indicate that there can be no relaxation in the program of extreme care and caution in the use and application of pesticides. Users must adhere strictly to the label recommendations of manufacturers. And the warning is not amiss here that empty pesticide containers, when not disposed of properly, constitute a serious hazard, particularly where children are concerned.

Use of fertilizers and pesticides in producing fruits and vegetables and other food products will assume an even more important role as populations all over the world continue to increase.

A release from the Department of Public Health, Education and Welfare indicates that wide spread research aimed at identifying and eliminating any health hazards associated with pesticide and to human life or that animal pollution has already been in life has been significantly begun.

New Building In County Drops By $2,895,062

Construction in unincorporated areas of Madison county dropped sharply during 1966 as 1013 building permits showed valuations totaling $14,875,344. Jack R. Clifford, building official, reported.

Values in the previous year were $17,707,306, a record high with the resulting drop set at $2,895,962.

Construction of new homes took a significant dip, from 836 in 1965 to 625 last year, due to the current tight money situation.

The top month was March when 152 permits listed values of $2,355,700. The totals were under the million dollar mark during seven months of the year.

In addition to homes, permits were issued for seven apartments and duplexes, 305 for garages, 49 for business purposes, four for churches, three for schools and 20 for advertising signs. Fees paid to the county totaled $18,992.

Permits by townships included 153 in Nameoki, 78 in Chouteau and six in Venice.

The county zoning board of appeals held 218 hearings during the year. Receipts totaled $10,415, including $4785 for zoning permits, $5450 in zoning hearing fees, and $200 from the sale of books and maps. Legal notice charges totaled $2950.

BUYING A HOME ON YOUR OWN IS A COMPLICATED BUSINESS, FRAUGHT WITH MYSTERY. BETTER SEE THE MAN FROM N.A.R.E.B. Most people don't have a clue about what to look for when they buy a home. They may stumble onto a place that LOOKS right. Then after they're settled they detect the leaks and squeaks, or even hidden assets. A Realtor has ALL the clues. Years of experience and training make him an expert on houses. Before you ever see it, he's examined the house for hidden defects and special attractions you might never notice. A Realtor is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. He'll smooth over the endless details of home-buying, because Realtors are trouble-shooters from way back. If you're buying a home, the man from N.A.R.E.B.—the National Association of Real Estate Boards—is the man to see. His I.D.? This seal, which only a Realtor may display.

Need for Foster Homes is Ever Present

The responsibility of helping a child whose parents cannot or will not care for him is often met by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services with a major assist from one of its foster homes.

"A foster home is a normal home and family which substitutes for the child's natural family," explains Mrs. Catherine Stookey, Social Work Supervisor for the East St. Louis District of the Department of Children and Family Services.

At the present time there are about 170 foster families for children served by the district, which includes the counties of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair.

50 New Cases a Month
 An average of 50 children needing care are being added to the caseload monthly and only about one in five foster homes are being added monthly. The office urgently needs foster home applications from families in each of the three counties — Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties.

Circumstances leading to the need for a foster home are varied. Some children are from broken homes where mental or physical illnesses prevent the parents from caring for them. The death of one or both parents can also leave children without adequate support or care.

"Some children have been badly abused by their parents and are physically and emotionally in need of care and love," she said.

Never Had Happy Home
 "Many youngsters have never experienced life in a normal, happy home where there is food, love and proper care," she continued. "Foster parents have an opportunity to show these children that life can be much better than they have ever known."

The children range in age from tiny infants to teenagers. The length of time a child stays in a foster home depends upon his needs. He may spend only a few days or weeks in an "emergency home"—or up to several years in a "long-term" foster home.

5 Types of Foster Homes
 There are five types of foster homes. One is the "infant home" which keeps infants who are released for adoption. The baby sits in a month or more in the right adoptive family can be found for him. The period may range from two weeks to a year.

The "emergency home" is for the child left stranded at any time of the night or day. A child could stay in this home from 24 hours to a month or more.

A "temporary home" keeps a child for a short period of time (usually two weeks to three months) until a permanent foster home can be found.

The "long-term home" cares for the child until he can return to his own family, until he is placed in a permanent adoptive home, or until he becomes 18 and is able to be on his own. This period of time runs from six months to several years.

The "special needs home" is for the handicapped child, the mixed youngster, the older teenager in training or on his first job, the pregnant adolescent girl, the handicapped child who is attending a special school away from home, the child who may be newly discharged from some type of institution.

Foster families are licensed by the state if they meet certain qualifications. The couple must have an income adequate to meet the needs of their own family, must be in good physical and mental health, must have sufficient space in the home so that a foster child will have his own bed—and above all, must have a sincere interest in and love for children.

Foster parents receive a monthly reimbursement, based on the age and specific needs of the child. In addition, provision is made by the state for the child's clothing and medical care.

Allowances are also provided for older youngsters. Persons wishing to become foster parents may write Mrs. Stookey at the Department of Children and Family Services, 425 Missouri Avenue, East St. Louis, 875-2400.

shoulders and he wore a sweeping mustache. His eyes were a pale, cold blue that many considered expressionless, the kind people often associate with gamblers and gunmen.

Tailor-made, Stylish Suits
 His suits were tailor-made and in the latest style. It is said that they were as striking as those worn by Wild Bill Hickok. He wore a Prince Albert coat, a pearl gray bowler (Kady), along with the finest of hand-made boots. He often carried a gold-headed cane which had been awarded to him as the most popular man in town with all the fine dress. Bat never appeared in public without his trusted revolver.

One man who knew him well characterized Masterson as "fearless, but no trouble maker; a gentleman by instinct, of pleasant manner, and mild upon his personal appearance."

He was six feet tall, weighed about 160 pounds, well proportioned, minded, cool and brave." There his golden hair reached to his waist about 1870.

As one of the West's all time great gunmen and peace officers it might be interesting to glance at Bat's personal appearance.

to the general concept of a gunman. Turns Sports Editor

Most gunmen and peace officers of the old west died while practicing their profession. It was not so with Bat. In 1892 he left a somewhat subdued Wyatt and went to New York City where he spent the next 19 years as writer and sports editor of the Morning Telegram.

Bat Masterson died quietly at his desk with pen in hand, on Oct. 25, 1921, far removed from the scenes and incidents that led to his being named, along with Wyatt Earp and "Wild Bill" Hickok as among those who "shot their way to heaven" while helping to bring law and order to our last and wildest frontier.

At least they shot somebody to somewhere.

Avid Response to SIU-SW's Reading Center

Concern in Washington over the problems of poor readers and slow learners in the elementary grades has stimulated the rapid development of a Southern Illinois-Southwestern Campus laboratory which opened only a little more than a year ago.

Federal funds are now being given to low income school districts to finance programs to deal with these handicaps, and teachers who need special training are "flocking in here," according to David E. Bear, director of the SIU-SW Reading Center.

Bear pointed out that federal money is available to school districts for various types of programs, but the districts see the slow learners and poor readers as "their most urgent problems." He said as many as 20 to 25% of all elementary pupils fit into these categories.

165 Students

As a result, the Reading Center at SIU-SW, which opened only in September 1965, already has 165 students, many of them teachers selected by their principals to teach special classes. A recent one-day conference on reading at SIU-SW drew 600.

One hundred other teachers spent last summer on the campus learning to cope with reading problems. This fall, SIU-SW instructors followed 33 of them back into their classrooms to see how they are doing. They conducted a one-day seminar to evaluate their methods. Both graduates and undergraduates are also learning better ways to teach reading skills to the average pupil.

On Saturday mornings, teachers who are taking a series of three graduate courses work with grade school youngsters who are referred to the Center by their teachers, doctors or parents. As part of their training, they develop reading problems to help the youngsters, and these findings are relayed to the children's own teachers, Bear reported.

Specialized Equipment

The teacher-students first seek to determine if a child's difficulty in learning to read or in slowness to comprehend results from a physical defect. The Reading Center's equipment includes a telebinocular which checks the youngster's eyes and an audiometer which can determine if there is a hearing loss and to what degree.

If no impairment of vision is found, Bear said, the Center may call upon the services of SIU-SW psychologists to seek out emotional problems. In other instances, it may be recommended that the child be taken to his family physician who, in turn, may call in a medical specialist to look for neurological problems which could impede performance in school.

Children who come to the Center get a battery of standard reading achievement tests to pinpoint the kind of words or sentence structures that give them the most trouble. The teacher-students who meet with them on Saturday mornings use the extensive test results as guidelines upon which to base individual remedial reading.

Working with Teachers

The Center, located in the basement of Peck Classroom Building, is busy scheduling other conferences and workshops to reach as many teachers as possible throughout the year whose schools are seriously deficient in this specialized area. It has already sponsored one workshop in cooperation with the Central Midwestern Regional Educational Laboratory (CEMREL), a five-state organization headquartered in St. Louis which has as one of its prime goals the improvement of reading instruction in the elementary grades.

"All children can learn to read, but at present many children with physical, neurological and educational handicaps are being neglected," Bear said. "It is the responsibility of the schools to provide the necessary facilities, equipment and specialized personnel to help these children overcome their difficulties."

Faces Battery Charge

Irving C. Simmons, 46, of 1044 Third street, Venice, was arrested by Venice police at 7:48 p.m. Monday on a charge of battery. Simmons was arrested on a warrant issued on complaint of Maxine Simmons, 614 Jefferson street, Venice. He was released on notice to appear for magistrate's hearing Jan. 25.

Trucker Fined $100

William Hayes, Indianapolis, Ind., has been fined $100 plus $3 costs in magistrate's court on a charge of operating a truck on state highways without authority. He was arrested by an agent of the Illinois Commerce Commission last Friday.

Farmers Advised to File Tax Estimate by Jan. 16

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1966 gross income from farming should file their declaration of estimated Federal income tax for 1966 on or before Monday, Jan. 16, 1967. Form 1040ES should be used for this purpose.

Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said that farmers need not file an estimate if they file their 1966 Federal income tax return, Form 1040, and pay in full any tax due by Feb. 15, 1967.

"Farmer's Tax Guide," (Publication No. 225), which furnishes information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Springfield, Ill., 62704, or from the county farm agent.
